

Winter Weekday Teton Pass Closure

Response Details

		Answers	Skips
01	Let us know how the Pass closure has impacted your day in the space below:	42 72%	16 28%
	Victor resident who works on the WYO side most days. I had the ability that day to work remotely, which was good because Teton Valley schools were closed Tuesday and Wednesday.		Yesterday, 2:14PM
276,693,988
	I didn't go Uber drive there since I couldn't get over there, therefore likely a couple dozen trips weren't done for people to get to or from work, or customers getting to the businesses or resorts or restaurants.... It would have meant big delays and surges resulting in increased costs for people to absorb.		Yesterday, 9:45AM
276,677,339
	I live in Driggs. I am doing an electrical apprenticeship and taking classes online with CWC so I did homework all day.		Yesterday, 7:38AM
276,670,104
	Snowed in at home in Idaho side. I was able to work remote today. This does apply a lot of pressure to critical services like fire, police and hospital employees. Sometimes staff need to be on site from more critical events and if they can not be then someone that lives in Jackson has to.		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 10:48PM
276,650,032
	I didnt work and will probably miss my end of season bonus		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 10:30PM
276,649,761
	We live in driggs. My husband missed his orthopedic appointment he had been waiting a month for to occur, and had to cancel appt b/c of the closure. I slept on my friends couch away from home for three nights in order to make sure I could be at work in jksn.		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 10:10PM
276,649,591
	I had to call out for work. I stayed home.		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 9:18PM
276,649,030
	a great day in the valley. throwback to the 90's.		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 7:57PM
276,648,156
	Buckrail has lost its mojo since you bought it! You do not have timely posts anymore and your content is not up to the level that The founders offered up. It seems that all you do offer up is a ton of advertising that you have to scroll through to find a post and than that post is mediocre as mentioned above. So so disappointed.		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 7:32PM
276,647,873
	I stayed home, took a personal day.		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 6:59PM
276,647,281
	Worked from Home		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 5:09PM
276,646,556
	Stuck on the Idaho side, could not go to work, lost income :(Wednesday, Feb 22nd 5:44PM
276,645,018
	I was not able to get to work in Jackson from my home in Victor, ID so I lost a day of work - no pay (my position does not have benefits).		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 5:38PM
276,644,894
	Had to call out of work, and missed the entire day.		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 5:39PM
276,644,776
	I lost a day of work. Fun snow day but that doesn't pay the bills.		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 3:03PM
276,636,908
	I was able to work remotely for my full time job, but I did lose work for my part time job because I was unable to get to Jackson.		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 1:29PM
276,633,243
	I worked remotely		Wednesday, Feb 22nd 11:26AM

276,628,179	 not at all.	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 11:24AM
276,628,152	 worked remotely, grateful to have family in Teton Valley to help with childcare while both my husband and I worked from home. Cozy day at home with the fam!	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 11:04AM
276,627,210	 I had to drive around. Left at 9:30 and got to work at 2:00pm. No visibility over pine creek pass, someone hauling a flat trailer passed me, cut me off and ran me off the road near alpine. Took around 40 minutes to get unstuck. There were cops pulling semis with tow straps. First and last time oam ever driving around lol	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 10:45AM
276,626,460	 Let the highway dept do their job all the traffic only hinders them	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 10:36AM
276,625,915	 TCSD#1 had a virtual day = ski day at the JHMR!! No bad feelings at all	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 10:20AM
276,625,070	 The State knows how it affects us and yet they do nothing. No place to stay, expected to be at work, need to work to pay bills, nobody can afford to call out so they drive around. Why is there only 1 rotary and 1 lane either direction. Absolute negligence. Should have improved the roads as traffic got worse. They have ignored the growth for far too long. It's dangerous and the state is gonna be liable when someone dies from their negligence. AND... arrest those trailer law violators. Make the, go before the judge and have to get their truck out of impound. The fine is a joke to these drivers.	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 10:09AM
276,624,661	 I'm a teacher in Jackson. School closed. Very happy.	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 9:59AM
276,623,971	 I went around through the canyon and still made it in to and home from work.	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 9:51AM
276,623,567	 I had 2 staff members that could not make it to work. However, do to school closures in Jackson and roads the remainder of staff could not work. The weather everywhere was the #1 reason for shutting down all work.	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 9:27AM
276,622,650	 Thankfully I had the day off. I spent it at home doing chores. My partner also stayed home. He spent the day clearing a neighbors' driveway and ours. Good thing with how heavy it was and how cold it is today.	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 8:07AM
276,619,382	 WYDOT is awesome and people need to chill, it's Winter in Wyoming and Idaho so deal with it.	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 7:49AM
276,618,680	 I was able to work remotely.	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 7:37AM
276,618,370	 As an employer, one of my employees was stuck on the Idaho side and did not make it in to work. The other employee drove around through alpine.	Wednesday, Feb 22nd 3:47AM
276,612,419	 I got to stay home, which is dope for a day or two. And nah, a lot of employers don't pay for a place to stay. They barely pay us enough to live around here. Driving around isn't worth it either. Did that once, and it took me about 3 hours to get to work. Not worth it. Once again, they don't pay us enough to do that.	Tuesday, Feb 21st 11:51PM
276,609,462	 It's shocking that an area like this still struggles so much and can't get it together when big snow storms roll through.	Tuesday, Feb 21st 11:52PM
276,609,437	 Spent two nights on the office couch -felt fortunate I that as an option.	Tuesday, Feb 21st 11:28PM
276,609,229	 I wasn't stuck on the Idaho side but I was stuck at work because 7 co-workers weren't able to make it in due to the closure. Two drove around through Swan Valley and it took them 4 hours of driving time. They passed many cars off the road and one flipped over. We work at a hotel so this severely impacted our ability to serve customers. Many customers were turned around at the airport and had to return due to connecting flight issues. Due to this, I had to switch shifts to cover - working tonight and opening tomorrow. It was ROUGH!	Tuesday, Feb 21st 11:10PM
276,609,057	 It was fabulous Quiet like the old days on the other side Of the potato wall.	Tuesday, Feb 21st 11:02PM
276,608,940	 What about yesterday's illegal semi being stuck there. They're banned in the winter. Did it get towed? A big fine? Tell us the outcome. There should be a very large fine for the semi!	Tuesday, Feb 21st 9:08PM
276,607,796

 276,607,670	My whole family didn't work today,they should close early at night,like around 10 pm and open before 6 am,that's my opinion	Tuesday, Feb 21st 8:52PM
 276,607,365	Remote work	Tuesday, Feb 21st 8:17PM
 276,607,335	Pass closures typically mean I have to call out of work. If the pass closes and I'm stuck in Jackson, I am responsible for finding and paying for a place to stay.	Tuesday, Feb 21st 8:10PM
 276,607,287	I saw this coming and went to Cabo to avoid things.	Tuesday, Feb 21st 8:09PM
 276,607,158	I was able to work from home, fortunately the school district gave us this option!	Tuesday, Feb 21st 7:58PM
 276,606,963	Fortunately I have a very understanding boss who also has commuted on the pass. I've been doing it for almost 20 years and this has been the best year yet. I am able to work remotely which helps but if my computer doesn't want to connect it's an unpaid day. I appreciate that it was closed due to bad weather. I feel in past years it's been horrible weather and remarkably not closed when it really should have been.	Tuesday, Feb 21st 7:41PM